

Acronyms

I have found that some individuals at Litton PRC and in many of the organizations with which I have consulted become stymied and unable to continue making progress when they come across an acronym with which they are not familiar and can't easily determine what it stands for. I have compiled a list of acronyms in writing this book. The artifact provided in this folder may be extremely useful to you and your organization. Consider tailoring it by adding acronyms unique to your environment, and omitting acronyms that are not used in your environment. There is added cost and schedule associated with creating artifacts and assets anew. I encourage you to reuse artifacts whenever you can.